

TOM LONGBOAT MEDAL

Saanichton Girl Wins National Athletic Award For Indians

By BILL CHATTERTON

Vivian Underwood of East Saanichton is probably the most sports-minded Indian girl in Canada.

She is certainly the most successful. For Vivian has won the Tom Longboat Award which is presented each year to the Canadian Indian boy and girl who have the greatest record of athletic achievement.

Sixteen-year-old Vivian entered the competition for the award at the urging of Chief Ed Underwood who knew she had collected an impressive number of ribbons and trophies over the past few years in a wide range of sports including track and field events, softball, basketball and grass hockey.

The national award was presented to her in Vancouver recently by world-famed Canadian track star Harry Jerome.

TRACK AND FIELD

Vivian is one of the keenest athletes at Mount Newton junior secondary school. She has brought many awards to the school and herself in competition with students from all other junior secondary schools in the Greater Victoria district. Track and field is her forte and for the last two years she has won the aggregate trophy for her class in inter-school sports at Victoria senior secondary school (Vic High). She has also been the top girl athlete of Mount Newton and Royal Oak schools for the last two years.

TOP HONORS

But school track and field represents just one of Vivian's sports interests. She shared top honors with brother Gus, 22, in sports contests at A-Na-Cha Tay last spring, compiling 21 points during the day compared to 19 points obtained by Gus. They jointly won the A-Na-Cha-Tay Trophy.

A basketball devotee for most of her 16 years, Vivian has a trophy at her home which says she was the most outstanding player on her team. Last year she played for the Brentwood juvenile girls and also found time to coach the Saanichton midget boys. This year she is assistant coach of the Brentwood bantam boys team.

She played grass hockey so well against a Nanaimo team last year that the winning Hub City team

CENTRAL SAANICH

Midget Boys Only Victorious Saanichton Basketball Team

Three games of basketball were played in the Saanichton Agricultural hall Saturday night.

SAANICHTON

There were eight tables of players at last Wednesday night's "500" card party in the Institute Hall, Keating. Winners were: Mrs. P. Little, Mrs. W. Gibbons, A. Hafer and G. Harris. Mrs. A. Doney and Mrs. F. M. Hamilton served refreshments assisted by Institute members.

Mrs. C. Rukin, Cassidy, was a weekend guest at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. Pelter, Mount Newton Cross Road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Saint, Dean Park Road, had Mrs. Saint's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Way, Russell, Manitoba, visiting with them this past week.

Weekend visitors at the home of Mrs. E. Mahon, Jeffery Road, were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. Pettigrew, with daughters Cathy and Sharon from Vancouver.

asked her to join them for the provincial finals. She played for Nanaimo and the team won the B.C. title. Vivian was the leading scorer for her team in the semi-finals.

SIX TROPHIES

Altogether she now has six trophies—four for track and field, one for basketball and one for Indian sports—plus innumerable ribbons collected since her first days in school.

But the Tom Longboat award combines them all. Vivian has not actually received the award, represented by a medal, yet but a token presentation was made in Vancouver when the winners were announced.

Chief Underwood said the Tom Longboat award was established in memory of one of the most famous Canadian Indian athletes, Tom Longboat, who competed in track events all over this country and the United States. He came from the interior of B.C.

MORE TO COME

Attractive and quiet spoken Vivian is justifiably proud of her latest award which will occupy the most favored position among her trophies at her 2497 Mount Newton Cross Road home. However, Vivian is not the type to rest on her laurels so it would appear that the collection of cups and ribbons will continue to grow.

J. F. H. NOBLE DIES AT BRENTWOOD

Resident of Brentwood Bay for the last 14 years, James Frank Herbert Noble passed away at his 886 Clarke Road residence last Thursday, Nov. 11. Born in Chelmsford, England, he was a veteran of the First World War.

He is survived by his wife, Lillian, at home; sons, Edward Noble, Mission; Ronald and Allan Noble, in Vancouver; Captain Frank Noble, Ottawa, and Robert Noble, Campbell River; his daughters, Mrs. D. (Doris) Foster, Victoria, and Mrs. L. (Gladys) Evans, England; 13 grandchildren; two great-grandchildren; two sisters in England and his brother in Australia.

Archdeacon E. H. Muddocks conducted funeral services on Saturday, Nov. 13, at Sands Funeral Chapel of Roses in Sidney. Interment in Colwood Burial Park followed the services.

Carnival

Prospect Lake District Community Association will hold the second annual Silver Bells Carnival in the Community hall on Sparrow Road on Friday, Nov. 19 commencing at 7 p.m.

The fun-fair will be opened by Mrs. Doug Crosby. There will be games, home cooking and novelty stalls.

Proceeds are in aid of the hall fund.

Fishing Limits

WHO is connected with the fishing industry? When a Sidney commercial fisherman last week circulated a petition regarding fishing limits, he sought signatures from all connected directly or indirectly with fishing. On Saanich Peninsula it is difficult to establish any specific group which is not in this category.

Commercial fishermen make their homes in every part of the Saanich Peninsula. The marinas and wharfs are picturesque with fish boats tied up at their moorings. The federal government spent a large sum of money on the construction of a fishermen's wharf in Sidney.

Only a fraction of the population here goes down to the sea in ships. Yet, we are vitally linked with the fishing industry here and we must be at all times aware of those conditions which influence this industry.

Postal Service

RESIDENTS of Sidney will be delighted to learn that Duncan and Courtenay are to be awarded the privilege of mail delivery. During the recent election Prime Minister Pearson revealed that the requirements for street delivery were to be eased up.

It is unfortunate that a service which has been accepted as part of living in almost every country of Europe for a hundred years or more should be offered to the people of Canada as a special election gesture.

There is probably no village in Europe so small or so remote that it is denied a mail delivery service. There is probably no village in British Columbia so large that it can enjoy the same service.

Now that the election is all over, Canadians everywhere would welcome a change of policy on postal service. We are eager to aid the underdeveloped countries of the world. Perhaps we should develop our own.

Church Hall

MEMBERS of the congregation of a Sidney church have expressed concern at the sharp increase in taxes on the church hall. At a recent council meeting in Sidney it was noted that a relief from taxes for the church hall would necessitate a greater burden on the people of the district.

This is a grossly narrow viewpoint and unworthy of the village council. The council is given complete authority to relieve church halls of the tax burden. They should exercise this authority.

If the village of Sidney were so desperate that it needed to penalize those who seek to worship God, then it would be, indeed, in desperate straits. We know that this is far from the case.

Population

SHARP surprise to many in North Saanich, and beyond its boundaries, was the conclusion of the census. The new municipality has been checked for population and the final figure was released this week.

The community had expected a few more people in North Saanich, but particularly notable is the ratio between adults and children.

The North Saanich municipality is far from a haven for the retired and the aged. The population consists of two-thirds adults and one-third, minors.

This ratio indicates that the municipality caters to ordinary young families to a far greater degree than was the case but a few years ago. The age-curve is undoubtedly changing on the North Saanich graph.

Cause And Effect?

IN an age of declining morality there are innumerable voices ever eager to contribute some new philosophy to remedy the situation. In some instances their efforts may well bear fruit and we should be ready to listen to and learn at all times.

We cannot but retain a sneaking suspicion that perhaps the trend of modern society is to substitute the untried for the tested and proved.

Where citizenship has been substituted in a child's mind for its predecessor, Christian morality, the ethics of the situation remain unchanged.

Under both courses of tuition the erring child is aware that the act he contemplates is wrong. It was only within the realms of the original training that he could understand why.

Letters To The Editor

VERY IMPORTANT

In your last issue dated Wednesday, November 10th, 1965, you carried a news item to the effect that the DEEP COVE (V.I.) PROPERTY OWNERS ASSOCIATION had proposed the establishment of one association to represent all property owners of North Saanich.

It would be interesting to learn the source of the item; I can assure you that the Deep Cove (V.I.) Property Owners Association has never proposed or considered this matter.

The present set-up whereby the four regional Associations — Deep Cove, North West Mount Newton, North Sidney, and Dean Park — deal with their respective local matters and co-ordinate their viewpoints through a Joint Council seems to work out very well, and I think is very necessary until the new council is elected on December 11, at any rate. The question of a balanced representation from the four geographic areas is very important especially during the early days of the new council.

I can only conclude that your information comes from some interested party or parties, and is in the nature of a kite-flying operation to test local opinion. Certainly it did not emanate from the Deep Cove (V.I.) Property Owners Association.

REZONING

Sidney is an attractive village. Careful planning will make it infinitely more so. Given that planning, it will grow and prosper. Arriving recently to take up residence, it has come as somewhat of a shock to learn of a pro-

ANGRY EXCHANGE

BY-LAW WITHDRAWN AS OPPOSITION ADAMANT

Bylaw to rezone two Central Saanich properties back to agricultural use from special commercial was withdrawn by its four supporters Tuesday evening after it had been given three readings. The bylaw was withdrawn when it became apparent that it would fail to gain majority approval of council on its final reading.

Move followed an unusually heated debate for Central Saanich council between supporters of the bylaw, Reeve Gordon Lee and Councillors C. W. Mollard, P. F. Benn and T. G. Michell, the opponents, Councillors R. M. Lamont, Mrs. M. E. Salt and A. K. Hemstreet, and one of the property owners, Phillip Bushby, 7853 Collins Road.

Coun. Lamont said he was prepared to go along with the rezoning of D. S. Polson's property at 7811 Collins Road, but he strongly objected to the procedure for Mr. Bushby's land. Mr. Bushby has told council that he operates a boat rental business and engine repair shop on the property.

TWO BYLAWS

"What sense is there in rezoning Mr. Bushby's land back to agricultural forcing him to come back to us for rezoning to marina use when we could rezone it to marina use in one move?" Coun. Lamont asked. "I think there should be a bylaw for each property."

"But we don't have an exact definition of a marina," Reeve Lee angrily countered. "Do you want to leave this open for two or three months while a marina bylaw is prepared?"

"We could get another municipality's bylaw and copy it and amend it later," replied Coun. Lamont.

WOULDN'T FIT

"There isn't one that would fit our municipality," the reeve said. Supporting the reeve, Coun. Michell observed: "If that zoning is not changed very quickly a cement plant could go in there."

After three readings of the bylaw, Coun. Lamont introduced a motion calling for the preparation of two bylaws instead of one bylaw for the two properties. It then became obvious that the first bylaw would stand only a slim chance of approval. Although it had been approved three times, a five to two majority is required on the final reading.

"It appears that this bylaw is

MORE ABOUT FISHING

It has been estimated by the industry's economists, observed Mr. Larson, that a pound of red snapper delivered on the dock at Vladivostok costs the Russian operators $1.60. The industry is a function of the government and cost is not a major factor.

Mr. Larson operates the Seymour Girl, a 34-foot salmon troller. Each spring he sails from Sidney up to the Hecate Strait. He fishes there throughout the summer and returns home in September.

The fishing grounds are 500-600 miles northwest of Sidney and the Seymour Girl will be running for up to five days to reach her destination.

OUT OF SIGHT

While fishing Mr. Larson will be cruising out to a distance up to 20 miles from shore. Frequently he will be out of sight of land or another vessel.

A lone fisherman has no other skipper to communicate with. Hence he carries a more than normally powerful radio.

Mr. Larson was modest about his views.

He was inviting those directly or indirectly concerned with the fishing industry to sign a petition asking Ottawa to realign the 12-mile limit.

His comments were offered as opinions and not facts.

Such action by the government would leave the waters of the Queen Charlotte, Hecate Strait and Dixon Entrance in Canadian territory.

Mr. Larson's petition bore 300 names when he sent it to Ottawa this week. And his is not the only one. Similar petitions are being circulated in Victoria and up-island. They may, ultimately, prove to be bigger. But Mr. Larson's was the first.

proposal to split in two a choice residential area by zoning for industrial purposes a block of land between Fifth St. and the Patricia Bay Highway.

Such a plan cannot rate as good planning. The Maryland subdivision and Weller Ave. are choice home locations. Property to the west of Fifth St. (Oakville and Orchard) are well established residential areas.

The intrusion of an industrial zone—the ultimate future use of which cannot be foreseen—will bring about deterioration of the whole area.

Certainly there must be a place in Sidney for industry but must it be in the centre of a district where people have built their homes and adjacent to a park area which can be developed into a village beauty spot?

headed for defeat," Reeve Lee said. "After three readings it automatically goes to a public hearing. This is time consuming and it now appears that there would be no change in voting and we would have to start all over again."

WITHDRAWN

His three supporters agreed that withdrawal of the bylaw would be advisable.

Mr. Polson has offered no objection to the proposed rezoning of his property but Mr. Bushby maintains that it would be a loss of freedom to him. He has attended every regular council meeting for the last two months while the proposals have been debated.

"I was ready to negotiate with you from the very beginning," he told council on Tuesday. "I will admit that there has not been much of a growth rate at the marina during the past few years but we have had a lot of troubles," he said.

NOT TOO CONVINCED

"I must say that some of us were not too convinced by your plans," observed the reeve.

Second violent exchange was prompted when Coun. Mollard asked Mr. Bushby: "You told us that you want to continue the marina but how do you account for the 'for sale' sign on the property in the last few months?"

"That is his right to sell his property," Coun. Lamont interjected. "I think this has been a phony deal from the start, and I don't mind being quoted on this," said Coun. Mollard. "I've been told this man has never rented a boat."

Turning to Mr. Bushby he said, "You have no ramp, no boats, nothing to represent a marina."

"I saw a boat down there about 10 days ago with my own eyes ... there are my floats," Mr. Bushby said.

Discussion was brought to an abrupt halt by Reeve Lee at this point and the municipal clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw for each property.

NEW BUS SERVICE DEPENDS ON USE BY RESIDENTS

Improved bus service between Deep Cove and Victoria will only be retained if sufficient numbers of passengers use it.

Deep Cove resident who makes regular trips to Victoria by bus has urged his fellow residents to show the operators that the service is needed.

Vancouver Island Coach Lines Ltd. has provided a service whereby a resident of the north end of Saanich Peninsula can travel to the city in the morning, attend to his affairs and return home in the evening, said the traveller.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MAJOR A. E. SMART IN CITY

Retired military man and a well-known dog trainer, Maj. A. E. Smart of 1444 McTavish Road, passed away suddenly in Victoria on Friday, Nov. 12.

Maj. Smart retired in North Saanich and has taken part in various activities here. He was a supporter of the Community Chest and headed the chest campaign in the district several years ago.

For many years he has been closely identified with the North Saanich Dog Obedience Club and other activities in connection with dog training and showing.

He leaves his wife, Dorothy, at home and a brother, H. C. Smart, in Bristol, England.

Last rites were observed on Tuesday, Nov. 16, at McCall Brothers Funeral Chapel, Rev. Dr. K. King and the Very Rev. Dr. J. L. W. McLean officiated. Cremation followed.

FORMER SIDNEY HOUSEWIFE PASSES AWAY

Former resident of Sidney, Mrs. Gladys June Tuttle, passed away in Victoria on Tuesday, Nov. 16. Resident of Esquimalt, she resided in Sidney prior to her marriage to Edward Tuttle.

She leaves her husband, a daughter, Christine and a son, Frederick, at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Chukshank, formerly of Sidney and now of Mill Bay, and two brothers, Ronald and George, in Vancouver.

Last rites will be observed on Friday from McCall Brothers Funeral Chapel. Cremation will follow. Rev. J. A. Roberts will officiate.

ENDORSE LIBRARY PROJECT

Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the plans for a library branch in the community.

On Tuesday evening the chamber offered its support to the project and called for an affirmative vote in December.

The chamber also approved the contribution of $15 towards costs incurred by the library committee in presenting the referendum.

First Call To Consider Hospitals

First public meeting to be announced in connection with the North Saanich municipal elections next month will have a wide interest.

Ratepayers' groups of North Saanich will sponsor a meeting on December 1 at North Saanich junior secondary school. The meeting will hear reports supporting and opposing the proposed hospital legislation.

Municipalities in all parts of the lower Vancouver Island areas are to present a referendum in December asking for ratepayers' support of a two-mill levy in connection with capital costs of hospitals.

Cubs Pay Tribute To Donor Of Camp

Under the convership of Mrs. P. Whelan and hard work by all members of the ladies' auxiliary of the Boy Scouts, 1st Tsartlip Group, the Cubs and Scouts had the opportunity of joining their "fairly godmother" and Scouts in serving tea and coffee to the many friends who attended the tea and bake sale at St. Paul's United Church hall.

Beautiful fall floral arrangements by Mrs. C. Adsett adorned the tea table and individual tables.

Mrs. W. S. Dawson (the boys' fairly godmother and donor of Camp Dawson) presided at the tea table and watched with pride as her young Cubs, in uniform, manfully carried tea cups, sandwiches and cakes to assembled guests. Older Scouts replenished the rapidly dwindling supplies of sandwiches, cakes, tea and coffee.

Mrs. R. Villers and Scouters D. Jack, J. Pedlow and T. Odlund assisted Mrs. Dawson in dispensing tea and coffee.

Visitors enjoyed seeing displays of cubbing and scouting requirements and the delicious cakes, pies, squares and cookies were purchased from the bake table almost as soon as they appeared.

Many expressed the hope that the ladies' auxiliary will make this "pink tea" an annual event.

Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Acts 16:31.

"How would you feel if you were told by a doctor that your days were numbered. It is a very possible situation and in an over all picture we are all in that position for we must someday all die. I once asked a man, who had been told he would soon die, how he felt in regard to God. I shall never forget his answer — "How could I calmly lie here day by day unless I know I had salvation through belief in the precious blood of Christ?"

The apostle Paul calmly met death and his days were such that daily he could expect this day to be his last. He put his feelings into words for our comfort and admonition in Phil. 1:20-21. He looked forward unto death of the body for he knew it meant being present with his Lord, a thing which he considered gain.

This comfort of the assurance of salvation should be yours for God has given it freely to the world for all who will receive. In the best known of all verses, John 3:16, we are told that those who believe shall have "everlasting life". If you could lose it, it would not be everlasting. But again, Jesus tells His Father that He has lost none given into His keeping and He wants God, the Father, to take over. (John 17) Then Paul says we also keep in the power of God through faith unto salvation. You can know you are saved and in this lies one of the joys of salvation—to doubt is to doubt God's Word!

Election In North Saanich

Total Seven Ballots

First annual election in North Saanich will be a big one.

In addition to the election of a reeve, three councillors for two years and three councillors for one year, voters will return a school trustee for two years and property owners will vote on three questions.

The subjects of the three questions concern library service for the area and participation in the functions of a proposed Regional District, dealing with parks and hospitals.

According to available information from the department of municipal affairs, the approval of the acquisition of park property will be limited to one-half mill on the total taxable assessed real property within the regional district.

For granting aid to hospitals in connection with construction and equipment costs, burden will be allocated throughout the district on the basis of population and assessment. Total may not exceed two mills.

Final referendum question will seek support of the proposal to provide library services here. Cost of a library service has been estimated at about $6,000 or three-quarter mill annually.

There will be seven ballots in December.

CHAMBER CALLS FOR NEW PORT

Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce has supported the proposal of Salt Spring Island chamber.

On Tuesday evening the chamber endorsed the plea of Salt Spring Islanders for a transfer of the ferry wharf from Fulford to Isabella Point.

The change would reduce the time of crossing the narrow stretch of water between Swartz Bay and Fulford.

Survey Is Reaching Conclusion
Survey of stores and merchan-dizing is nearing its end.
Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce has instituted a survey of stores in the area and residents have been invited to complete a questionnaire at the chartered banks in Sidney.
The analysis of the survey will be presented to members of the chamber in January, reports the committee chairman, H. E. Rasmussen.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED
ISLAND W.I. COLLECTING
GIFTS FOR MENTAL PATIENTS

Annual meeting of the South Salt Spring Island W.I. was held at the home of the president, Mrs. R. Lee, on Wednesday, Nov. 10, with 10 members present.

Mrs. D. Slingsby took the chair during the election of officers. Most officers were re-elected: Mrs. Lee, president; Miss Bea Hamilton, vice-president; Mrs. Middlemiss, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Slingsby, director, and a new director, Mrs. E. Anderson. Mrs. W. Mossop was thanked for holding the office of treasurer last year. The secretary will also serve as treasurer this year.

Conveners are: citizenship and education, Mrs. M. Gyves; health and welfare, Mrs. A. McManus; Unitarian, Mrs. E. Anderson; agriculture, Mrs. A. Davis; public relations, Bea Hamilton.

Donations have been sent to the Pennies for Friendship Fund, Aberdeen Scholarship and Adelaide Hoodless funds, Children's Hospital and Solarium, the Lion's Pioneer Village, the Fulford Hall Entrance Fund and the C.N.I.B.

Gifts are now being collected for mental health patients. Collection box is in Patterson's store at Fulford and everyone is invited to donate something that will make a patient's life brighter at Christmas. A list of possible gifts is posted on the box.

A card party will be held at Nan's Coffee Bar on Saturday, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. Refreshments, prizes and a candy stall will be featured.

On December 18 the W.I. and Fulford Hall committee will sponsor a 500 card party in the Fulford Hall at 8 p.m. with a turkey as a door prize and other prizes for card winners.

The next W.I. meeting will take on a Christmas theme and will be at the home of Mrs. E. Anderson, Beaver Point, at 2 p.m. December 9. Mrs. V. McClaron will show some of her colored slides.

Regret was expressed at losing a valuable member to a Victoria district, Miss V. Sallis, who is eventually leaving the Island to live nearer Victoria.

PREPARE FOR CHRISTMAS
BAZAAR

Preparations for the annual Christmas bazaar occupied much of the members' attention at the recent Pender Island Women's Institute meeting.

An imaginative parcel was dispatched to the sponsored child in Austria and membership was renewed in the Children's Foundation, an organization for the rehabilitation of emotionally disturbed children.

Plans were made for the use of a "talent" dollar. In this application of the parable of the talents, each Women's Institute in the South Vancouver Island District is given a dollar—proceeds of a group-made afghan—from which to build a fund to be applied eventually to the training of a member in some skill which she will subsequently teach to other members.

A report was given to Mrs. N. N. Grimmer, delegate to the recent Institute workshop held at Cedar, where talks on administration and demonstrations of crafts, hobbies and skills were given.

Mrs. P. H. Grimmer, as district agricultural convener, showed samples of the many herbs grown on the island and described their uses. She also displayed a mushroom, found in her own garden, almost two feet across.

Wednesday, Nov. 17, is the date of the Institute bazaar to be held at the Port Washington Hall.

NORTH PENDER

Mr. and Mrs. J. Betts of Lowestoft, England, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harrison for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Blatchford from Vancouver have been spending a weekend at their Port Washington home.

On Monday, Nov. 8, Captain C. Thomas passed away in the Lady Minto Hospital at Ganges.

Mrs. V. M. Georgeson has Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skidwell and Sylvia, Will Hancock and Kenneth Schulz, all from Victoria, visiting her at Lisson Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Turner, from Steveston, with their daughter, Jeanette, and her friend, Gary Thompson, are here at their Island home for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Weeks from Victoria, are with Mrs. Stella Bowerman for a short visit.

A. B. Gallinger of North Pender, passed away on November 8 at Valley View Hospital, Vancouver.

Legion Party

A Legion meeting, held at South Pender, at the Bedwell Harbour Resort, sponsored by Royal Canadian Legion Branch 239, for all ex-service men and their wives, was well attended.

A most enjoyable evening of cards, dancing and music, followed by refreshments, was enjoyed.

The meeting was one of the best attended functions put on by the branch and guests agreed it was one of the highlights of the district.

A committee composed of Ashton Ross Smith, David McBean and Henry Johnson, has been congratulated on its efforts and thanks were expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Stan Letner for the use of their premises.

Notice to General Contractors

Tenders are invited for the Construction of a Pioneer Village Project for Senior Citizens to be constructed at Ganges on Salt Spring Island, B.C.

The work consists of eleven duplex buildings containing 22 living suites. Buildings are concrete slab on grade, frame construction, with shingle roofs, stucco exteriors, dry wall interior finishes, wood windows, electric heating, blacktop driveways.

Tenders will be received until 4:30 P.M., Thursday, 2nd December 1965 at the Architect's office.

General Contractors only, may obtain drawings from the Architect, H. James White, 1074 Estevan Road, Nanaimo, B.C., Telephone 754-9532. A deposit of $50.00 in the form of a Certified cheque is required with each set. Deposit is refundable within TEN days of Tender Date on receipt of drawings.

A Bid Bond or Certified cheque in the amount of $7,000.00 must accompany each Tender. The successful Contractor is required to furnish a 50% Performance Bond.

Sub-trades and suppliers may view drawings at the building exchanges in Nanaimo, Victoria, and Vancouver.

A Bid Depository system will be used. Sub-trades affected are listed in the Instructions to Bidders. The Depository Bid closes at 4:30 P.M. on Tuesday, the 30th of November 1965, at the Credit Bureau of Nanaimo, B.C.

THE GULF ISLANDS

GANGES

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Isbister and young daughters Shari and Jean, Port Alberni, are visiting Mrs. Isbister's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Degmen. Mr. Isbister leaves Monday for a hunting trip to Jervis Inlet while his wife and family will remain with her parents.

Mrs. A. Lindskog, Ladysmith, spent the past weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. McDermott, Ganges.

Among well known former residents of Salt Spring noticed at the Remembrance Day service at Ganges on November 11 were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crofton, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eaton, Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Britton, Victoria; Bud Harrison, Vancouver; Brian Inglis and Ian Macintosh, Victoria, and Sergeant Major Kenneth Byron, "Black Watch," Camp Gagetown, New Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Corbett, Painter's Lodge, Campbell River, accompanied by Daphne and Frank, were guests for a few days of Lieut. Col. Desmond Crofton.

Peter Turner, 4th officer of S.S. Canberra, paid a short visit to his aunt and uncle, Major and Mrs. Zenon Kropinski. He is the younger son of the late Wing Commander R. S. (Peter) Turner, R.A.F.

Miss Ellen Worthington, Victoria, has been visiting her sister-in-law Mrs. Elsie Worthington, Ganges Hill, this past week.

Recent guests last week at Harbour House Hotel were: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson and Miss Muriel Bennett, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eaton, Kamloops; Bruce Wilson, Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Maxwell, West Vancouver; Bert Drysdale, Victoria; Capt. and Mrs. G. O. I.O.D.E. SALE
AND TEA
NETS $283

H.M.S. Ganges I.O.D.E. Chapter held its annual Christmas sale and tea in St. George's Church Hall on Saturday, Nov. 13.

The guests were welcomed by the regent, Mrs. F. K. Parker and Mrs. W. M. Moutat.

Mrs. O. L. Stanton and Mrs. Joyce Parsons were responsible for the attractive decorations. Large bowls of chrysanthemums added a colorful touch to the hall. A silver bowl of holly and snow berries was centered on the lace-covered tea table which was presided over by Mrs. V. C. Best, Mrs. G. H. Holmes, and Miss Helen Dean.

The tea committee consisted of Mrs. Laurie Moutat, Mrs. T. Portlock, Mrs. O. L. Stanton, Mrs. V. C. Best, Mrs. Hugh Ross, Mrs. Joyce Parsons, Miss Jeannie Kerrigan, Miss Brenda Sharp and Miss Janice McMillan.

In charge of the bake stall were Mrs. E. Richardson, Mrs. S. Hewitt and Mrs. A. Pike; miscellaneous, Mrs. Joe Pitts; calendars, Miss Erena Aitkens and Mrs. H. Robinson.

The electric blanket donated by the honorary vice-regent Mrs. Cecil Abbott, Victoria, was won by Mrs. Jack Smith. Mrs. Graham Shove was in charge of the tickets for the blanket.

Miss Susan Marcus won the scrip from the Dutch Beauty Salon.

The chicken dinner donated by members of the chapter was won by Mrs. G. Webster. Mrs. Earl Hardie was in charge of the tickets.

Net proceeds for the successful sale were $283.22.

Mrs. R. B. Horsfield was at the door.

YOUNG VETERANS OUTNUMBERED

"Thinning Ranks" Doesn't Hold True At Ganges

The "thinning ranks of veterans" is a phrase used year after year to draw attention to the steadily decreasing number of "old sweatshirts" who appear on Remembrance Day parades, and of the toll that time has taken. But on Salt Spring Island it doesn't hold true.

Marching to the Cenotaph in Ganges village on November 11 for memorial services, the veterans of World War 1 outnumbered their younger comrades of the Second World War two-to-one. In all, it was the largest parade of ex-servicemen and women in the history of the island.

Farewell Party On Galiano For Henry And Frances Brown

On Saturday evening, Nov. 13, more than 80 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, gathered at the North Galiano Community Hall for a buffet supper. Henry and Frances Brown will soon be leaving the Portlier Pass lighthouse after 16 years there. They will reside in Victoria.

Mrs. Harry Baines, Sr., was convener of the supper.

Norman Russell was the master of ceremonies, and his humorous remarks was all that kept most of the people from tears, as all are sorry to see this popular couple leave the lighthouse, where all were welcome and the hospitality was superb at all times.

There were several presentations

It was almost the last day of his life.

Frank is 26 years of age, he is married and has three children and fishes for a living.

He went out from Portlier Pass on Saturday morning in his 26-foot boat to try and catch some cod. HALLOWE'EN AT MAYNE
COSTUMES AND REVELRY

By ISLANDER

"Bubble, Bubble, Toil and Trouble, Fire burn and cauldron bubble."

Perhaps this quote from Macbeth hardly describes Mayne Island on Halloween, although, as usual, much toil and trouble is taken by the ladies of Mayne to make the fire burn and cauldron bubble to produce the mountains of food that grace the tables at our island entertainments.

Further, much toil and trouble must have been taken by the many islanders who thought up the vast variety of costumes which made this Halloween the spectacular show it turned out to be.

After the hundred or so people had dined, all adjourned outside for the display of fireworks. These made a brave display and gave the children a vivid memory of Halloween.

Dancing filled up the remainder of the evening. There were square dances and other old-time dances. Caller was Jesse Brown. There were also two special selections for the teen-age group. An unrehearsed "frug" or some similar dance was done by Norman Georgeson and Dale Piggott.

GRAND PARADE

Costume always demands a grand parade, and the judges were given many problems by the originality, excellence and variety of the many costumes. These were awarded to most original, E. Foster, Caesar's Ghost; best, Mrs. J. Drummond, Mrs. W. Piggott. Children, original, Barbara Ross; humorous, Scott Hopkins; draw, Miss Fournier.

Among these many costumes were cavemen and women, black cat, witches, scarecrows and the spirit of autumn, in a costume made entirely of maple leaves.

During the evening a collection was taken towards the cost of the plaque later given to MV "Mayne Queen" by the island.

From the profit made by the show these donations were given: "Save the Children" fund, $30; prize fund for Mayne Island school, $15; to purchase of reference books for the school, $23.50.

It was a successful evening and the thanks of Islanders were expressed to the ladies headed by Mrs. F. Bennett who put in so many hours to make these few brief hours of fun available to the island as a whole.

ISLANDERS PARADE FOR REMEMBRANCE DAY HERE

By LEGIONNAIRE

It is 47 years since the bugles sounded "Cease Fire" on the Western Front, and the number who heard that historic call is rapidly diminishing.

Diminishing too, is the number, soldier and civilian, who remember the mad joy of that day, now so long ago. To each, that call had a different meaning. To the soldier, the promise of the end of trench warfare, and the varying accompanying horrors it connoted, and the freedom from the peril of instant death. To the civilian the dawn of a brighter day, with no further danger of receiving the fatal telegram ... "We regret to inform you ... etc."

Many of these memories are now blunted by the passage of time, but the memory of the sacrifices made by so many of our people during those historic years, and again from 1939 to 1945, should never be allowed to pass from public memory.

REMEMBRANCE

With this in mind, across the country on the morning of November 11 people of all sorts and conditions assemble to remember, if only for a few brief moments, those who gave their lives for their country, those who still bear the scars of battle, and, indeed, all who served.

In keeping with the nation at large, Gulf Islands branch of the Royal Canadian Legion held their annual commemorative service at Saturna Island. There was quite a good turn-out of veterans, but looking around, one cannot help but notice the many blank files, those who a few years ago were always present, and who have answered their last roll call. Missing, too, are many of our members who, through age are unable to attend. We were quite pleased to welcome quite a large number of the Saturna residents.

The church parade service was read by the Ven. R. B. Horsfield, rector of Salt Spring Island. This service is peculiar to Branch 84, and has been developed since 1946, reaching its present form about nine years ago. It was developed from a service used at Toc H, Poperinghe, a place well known to many First War men.

During the service, after the Silence, the padre reminded us of a fact frequently forgotten, that, in this life we should give, and few gave so freely as those whom we remember on this 11th day.

Coffee Table? Who Needs It?

By ROSALIE HEYWOOD

Coffee tables were nice but we didn't need one. They seemed to fit very well into other people's homes but I was sure one would never fit in ours; there just wasn't room. Anyway we had several TV trays which served as well.

That was six months ago!

During the summer we had house guests. We made them welcome and entertained them to the best of our ability. When summer was over a thank-you card and a parcel arrived. The parcel contained a big ash-tray, light and dark brown and bright orange in color with stickers on it stating it is a Fine Arts line and comes from California. Also that it has a Crystal Crackle Jewel Glaze that will be artistically enhanced over the years by additional crackling. No two will ever be alike.

beauty and I looked for a place to put it where it could be shown to advantage. There was no place! The television was too high, the table was too far from the centre of the room, the radio likewise.

SOLEMN OBSERVANCES

What it needed was a coffee table! I just HAD to have a coffee table!

Right then I started shopping about for one. I went from store to store. Some were too expensive, some not the right finish to match the rest of our furniture, some just not practical at all. I stopped searching and tried to content myself by admiring the ash-tray where it lay—on the television. Of course it couldn't be seen unless one walked across the room and stood there. I would sigh and say to myself: "Someday, someday!"

Then the sales started, and one afternoon when I should have been starting supper I took a sudden notion, threw on my coat and ran for the bus. I headed straight for the furniture store and the coffee tables. I was shown several and it looked as though it was going to be the same old story. The first ones were too expensive, the next were too dark a finish, another was the right finish but too small to be practical.

"Have you no others," I asked, "something sort of between this and that?"

"Yes, right over here we have some more."

"I followed the salesman and looked at the table he pointed out. It was long and narrow with a beautiful grain and walnut finish. This was it! I knew it immediately.

"How much?"

The price was right and I paid for it then and there.

As soon as it was home I put the ash-tray where it belonged. Oh there's another ash-tray near for people to use, THIS one is too pretty! As for the coffee table, we've found it very useful for afternoon tea or evening coffee when guests drop in. In fact—how did we ever live without it?

IT'S END by INDSOR

From out of the great flood of polluting that goes into an election campaign there sometimes comes a nugget of pure gold. One such was panned up for me by Tom Barnett who represents Comox-Alberni in Ottawa.

Apparently, according to the provisions of the Oregon Treaty, which we signed with our American neighbors back in 1848, we Canadians are guaranteed the right to free and unobstructed navigation down the Columbia River from the 49th parallel to its mouth. This is just dandy, and as we are well known internationally as strong silent backwoodsmen, except possibly for Lester and John, it has been a great advantage to us when we come out from the frozen north, to be able to paddle our fur laden canoes straight down to civilization. Unfortunately, there has been some slight whittling away of our historic rights.

BIG DAMS

It began in the thirties, when the Americans started to build giant dams up and down the Columbia, quite forgetful of the old treaty with its promise of unobstructed cruising. By now there are about half a dozen of these multi-million dollar dams, and before the process goes too far we should draw attention to this oversight on Uncle Sam's part.

My own plan is to launch a boat at the border and row downstream, chanting something like "Astoria or Bust." At the first dam we bump into, we'll flourish a copy of the Oregon Treaty under the noses of the local officials and demand unimpeded navigation. The Americans, being a decent and honorable people, will no doubt see the justice of our position and immediately remove all the obstructions in accordance with the treaty.

OTHER METHODS

If though, we should catch them on a bad day and they should prove a little reluctant, there are other courses open. Some people might

R. B. RALFS ELECTED BY ASSOCIATION

The following officers were elected to the executive of Prospect Lake and District Community Association at the annual dinner meeting held recently:

President, R. B. Ralfs; vice-president, J. Whitehead; secretary, Mrs. L. Hornsey; treasurer, G. Roberts; community affairs, B. Hoole; prospector, Mrs. J. Whitehead; building maintenance, E. Travers; ways and means, Mrs. Lane.

threaten to send a gunboat from Esquimalt to force its way upriver and blast out the obstructions, but that's not the Canadian way. We don't believe in pushing our neighbors around. Instead we might offer them a package deal, they give us back Canada and we'll forget all about the treaty, or if this is too hard a bargain we might instead get a corridor across the Alaska Panhandle. As a five-year-old girl I know likes to sagely observe, "You never can't tell."

I find it hard to believe, but I am told that the following story is quite true.

Last August a local lady bought herself a snappy little bright red sports car, and soon after left to visit the P.N.E. Driving onto the grounds in search of a parking lot, she was halted by a parade of circus elephants, out for the morning exercise.

As she watched the passing pachyderms one broke ranks, lumbered over to her car and calmly sat down on it, rather badly denting in the rear end.

After the shouting and the tumult died down, the keeper was profuse in his apologies. "She meant no harm," he explained, "but part of her act is to sit on a red barrel, just the color of your car, and I guess she got confused. Don't worry though," he continued, "we'll take care of all the repairs. I'll just take them back to the barns and I'll meet you down at the police station in an hour to work out a fair settlement."

Heading back downtown, the lady pulled up by a traffic duty policeman to enquire the way.

"What happened," he asked.

"Oh nothing much. An elephant sat on it."

He goggled a bit, but kept calm. "I'll be off duty in a couple of minutes. If you want to wait, I'll show you the way to the station."

She waited, and as soon as he was relieved he came over, climbed in, and gave her directions. The only trouble was that the directions took her, not to the police station, but to the psychiatric ward of the General Hospital.

It took a great deal of phoning, and a lot of hard talking before she could convince a very skeptical officer that an elephant had really sat on her car.

JERRY LEWIS PLAYS BUNGLING ORDERLY

Role of a bungling orderly who manages to get into some of the funniest situations imaginable is played by Jerry Lewis in "The Disorderly Orderly." The film will be shown at the Gem Theatre in Sidney on Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week.

Co-starring with Lewis in this spoof on the medical profession are Glenda Farrell and Everett Sloane. The story takes place at the Grey-stone Sanitarium and there is every reason in the world why Jerry should be there. First of all, his late father was a doctor; secondly, Jerry (playing Jerome Littlefield) studied at medical school (but flunked out), and thirdly, from his general behaviour Jerome qualifies as a medical patient. The only problem is his unfortunate but boundless enthusiasm.

Producers of the film note that it was made entirely without the co-operation of any medical association.

BLIND CRAFTS TO BE ON SALE ON NOVEMBER 26

Plans have been completed by the C.N.I.B. Women's Auxiliary meeting for the coming sale of blindcrafts to be held at the Institute on November 26.

Mr. Tymchuk reported on a new-ly published book covering the life work of Colonel E. A. Baker and the CNIB, entitled, "No Compromise," which is written by Mrs. Marjorie Campbell.

He also said the annual Christmas dinner for the blind of Victoria will be held at the Centennial United Church, Gorge Road at David Street, on Friday, Dec. 3.

EXPENSIVE EVENING IN SIDNEY

Evening spent in Sidney early in October proved expensive for a Vancouver man in Sidney police court on Monday.

In a case remanded from October 8, Jimmy Sentes pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance, common assault and wilful damage.

He was fined $20 by Magistrate D. G. Ashby for causing a disturbance at the Hotel Sidney. On the

African Philosophy Defined By Rhodesian Professor

By DORIS LEEDHAM HOBBS

With Rhodesia so prominently in the news, it might be interesting to learn something of the philosophy of the African. The following I gleaned from Mr. Michael Gelfand, who lives in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, and is the author of several books, "Dr. Livingstone the Doctor", "The Sick African", "African Diseases", and "The Witchdoctor."

Dr. Gelfand is professor of medicine in University College of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, was born and brought up in South Africa, and feels that the Europeans of two centuries ago were nearer the present Africans in thought than are the present-day whites. We of the western civilization think differently; we take the mathematical, scientific, logical, materialistic, precise line, while the African is mystical, magical, static and likes to conform.

AMBITION IS BAD

This is what Dr. Gelfand says of the philosophy of the Africans:

common assault charge. Sentes was fined $50 and placed on $50 bond for a year to be of good behaviour, especially towards his wife. On the final charge of wilful damage, he was fined $100. He has also made restitution for a damaged door at the hotel and other damage.

Since 1949 Canadian wages have risen 112 per cent; only 84 per cent in U.S.

He stresses good manners, normality, reasonableness, excellent relationship with others, dignified behaviour. Ambition is bad because it leads to trouble (much as the ancient Greeks feared hubris or pride). Riches are despised and competition disliked; excess of any kind disapproved of and contentiousness one of the worst faults.

No man eats alone, food is always shared and greed greatly disliked. The rights of others are respected and strict morality is important.

What a magnificent philosophy, and how identical these virtues are with those we try to emulate.

The witchdoctor supplies a spiritual side, apart from his function as a healer (of course apart from his so-called powers of looking for departed spirits and demons).

WITCHDOCTOR

The witchdoctor is a herbalist, and knows the properties of plants for cures similar to those used in ancient Egypt. They know the flora of their district and are outstanding botanists. As these remedies get analyzed Dr. Gelfand thinks that they may reveal properties which will be beneficial to man.

One rather nice thing was noticed—the fraternity of witchdoctors is harmonious and pleasant, with no rivalry or bitterness. They never mind if the patient seeks the aid of a brother witchdoctor. They never boast, and let their successes speak for themselves.

Take a lifetime holiday from dishes!

Holiday from drudgery: An automatic dishwasher can save you about 225 hours of monotonous work each year — for a lifetime. That's extra time for important things. Like your family or guests.

Holiday from germs: Dishes turn out sparkling clean — hygienically clean — because an automatic dishwasher washes them thoroughly in water that's much hotter than your hands could ever stand.

Holiday from red hands: With a dishwasher, you seldom touch dirty dish-water or harsh detergents. So your hands stay smooth and youthful looking.

What's your stand on registering life insurance policies to claim increased income tax deductions?

Mr. Vincent: If it's possible, I'm all for it!

Interviewer: It is. You may request The Mutual Life to register with the government any Mutual Life policies, except Term insurance. This will enable you, under present Income Tax regulations, to deduct the savings portion of your premium, up to 20% of your earned income.

Mr. Vincent: It seems to me that everybody should know about this!

Interviewer: You're right! Particularly people who are building a pension for themselves. Even people now contributing to a company pension plan may qualify for further tax relief.

Mr. Vincent: Look, I'd like to check into this. Where can I get complete information?

Interviewer: Just call your nearest Mutual Life representative.

Saanichton Man Finds Catalogue Dating Back To Era Of First War

By BILL CHATTERTON

Ladies: How would you like to pick up a cute little hat for 75 cents? Or a pair of the latest foot-wear fashions for an outrageous $5? There's a wonderfully fluffy blouse for just $2.50 or smart skirts from $2.75.

If the bacon is running low, you could buy a pound of delicious back bacon for 22 cents.

Have you been saving up for a new stove? Well, save no longer; here's a beautiful little cast-iron model for just $15.50, or if you require a larger model run down and pick up a de luxe stove for $35.

What is this? A bazaar or some kind of a joke?

Well, there is a catch to it—you should have been around 53 years ago.

That's what you could have bought a very handsome dress of black Paillette silk for $10.75.

The too-good-to-be-true bargains were the going prices for the latest in fashions and labor-saving devices back in 1912. But don't worry ladies, if you saw today what you were getting for next to nothing you wouldn't want it anyway.

WELL PRESERVED

Nevertheless, it is interesting to thumb through the time-worn pages of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. fall and winter catalogue for 1912-13. Barry Kerr of Saanichton came across the well-preserved catalogue recently when he was rummaging through an old trunk in the attic of his home at 8214 East Saanich Road.

The old book is surprisingly similar in lay-out to the catalogues printed today by the major Canadian department stores. Less use was made of color, although there are several color sections in the catalogue, and all items displayed were drawn rather than photographed.

DISMAL COLORS

Mildly dressed rather dimly in the pre-war years. Prevalent colors for dresses, which covered the ladies back from ankles to throat, were brown, black and blue-gray. All-wool serge skirts were available for $2.75 to $8.50 and could be teamed up with smart blouses which ranged in price from $2.50 to $3.50. House dresses were just $1 to $1.75; petticoats $1.25 to $5.

The best ladies' hats were more highly valued than most men's suits. A "charming new Parisian design available in black or black and white" was the most expensive hat advertised at $14. Men's suits started at $8.40. Incidentally, the hat measured 19 inches from side to side and 16 inches from front to back!

Shoe fashions were just as ridiculous back in 1912 as they are in some cases today. The call-length boots featured hobble toes and Cuban heels with high laces or buttons and were priced from $1.50 to $5 per pair.

LITTLE CHANGE

Men's fashions have changed relatively little in the past 50-odd years. Single-breasted suits had been introduced then but still took a back-seat to the double-breasted models and dress shirts had the high starched collars. The suits ranged in price from $8.40 to $25 while medium-width slacks cost from $2 to $4.

Today's pipe-pants clad youth would shrink back in horror from the little Lord Fauntleroy fashions of 1912. Boys' suits for $6 came with either knee pants or bloomer pants, the latter worn with knee-length itchy black stockings.

And This Is How They Used To Dress

These are not comics . . . they are the accepted models of 1912.

HEAVY BOOTS

Shoes were unknown to the 1912 male. Instead, he wore heavy boots similar to the work boots of today although the fancier styles featured the hobble toes and Cuban heels similar to the ladies' models.

In the lingerie section of the catalogue, designers displayed corsets guaranteed to pull madam into the wispy-waist "in" styles for just $1.25. Necklines in some cases plunged dangerously low to new fashion heights.

Most expensive bandbag advertised in the catalogue was a goat leather number for $3. Wool-lined kid gloves were just 75 cents but if the price was too high, fleece-lined gloves could be purchased for 25 cents.

SHOTGUNS

Quart Thermos cost $2.75; shotguns ranged up to $25 and violins were available for $5 or $10.

Latest in labor-saving devices for the home included such ideal items as treadle Seamstress sewing machines for $20 and washers for $8.95. The latter was a slight improvement over the scrub board.

Curtain materials were available in a wide range of patterns and cloth from nine cents to 30 cents per yard; aprons were 23 cents and men's ties varied in price from 12½ cents to 50 cents.

Now don't you think you were born 50 years too late?

SANTA VISITS THE SUSIES

"Ho Hum," said Santa, "Think I had better go see what those Susie helpers of mine are doing for our bazaar on December 4.

"Well, well, that must be Gert Mitchell hidden under all those pretty aprons and fluffy things she has been so busy making, and there's her sister, Pearl along with Lil Thomson sitting stitching away at some lovely pillow cases, very, very nice my dears.

"I'll just slip across and see what is happening in the Idien household. Goodness, just look at that doll and its wardrobe full of beautiful clothes; mustn't let Mrs. Santa see them, might give her expensive ideas.

Wonder what Gib Andrews is doing? Home made marmalade, yum, yum, that sure looks good, and there's my friend Ben getting into the act too, making wooden tops for the jars. Didn't know you were a Susie, Ben. Oh, you're not, you're a Sam, well we need the Sams too you know, wish there were a lot more of them.

"Just flew over Bessie Robert's house, she always has a needle in her hand, doing lovely embroidery, and there's Anne Boas, working at her machine. Think I'll pop in on Doreen Bower, yes of course, she's very busy too making all sorts of things out of felt. Well I guess they are all working alright so I'll just fly back to the North Pole. Goodbye folks, see you again next week."

PUBLIC WELCOME TO INSPECT

Saanich school trustees have invited local residents to join them next Monday for an inspection of recently completed additions and extensive alterations to North Saanich junior secondary school.

Work at the school commenced early in the summer and has just been completed. Trustees will meet at the school at 4 p.m. Monday and will be taken on a tour of the building by Brian Shaw, district buildings superintendent. Interested members of the public will be welcomed.

District of North Saanich

Public Notice is hereby given that at the first Annual Election of this Municipality to be held in the Parish Hall, 1319 Mills Road, North Saanich on Saturday, December 11th, 1965 between the hours of eight o'clock in the forenoon and eight o'clock in the afternoon there will be submitted for the opinion of the owner-electors three questions which affect this municipality and with which the Council has power to deal.

That is to say:

Pursuant to By-law No. 4 being "North Saanich Regional Parks and Hospitals Referendum By-law (1965)", a copy of which by-law may be inspected at the Municipal Office situated at 9831 Third Street, Sidney, British Columbia on any weekday except Saturday between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. between the date of this notice and the day of election, (a) One question dealing with the subject of Regional Parks in the form following:

"Are you in favour of the District of North Saanich participating in the function of Regional Parks under the 'Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia' at an annual requisitioned cost not exceeding the product of one-half mill on the total taxable assessed values with the Regional District?"

(b) One question dealing with the subject of Hospitals in the form following:

"Are you in favour of the District of North Saanich sharing in the cost of granting aid for purchasing, building, enlarging or equipping public hospitals in the proposed 'Regional District of the Capital of British Columbia' with the total annual cost to all member Municipalities and Electoral Areas not to exceed an amount being the product of two mills on the total taxable assessed values within such Regional District, and to be shared by such Municipalities and Electoral Areas, half on the basis of taxable assessed values and half on the basis of population?"

Pursuant to Orders-in-Council Nos. 2861 and 2872 approved respectively on the 14th and 26th days of October 1965 the question

"Are you in favour of your municipality (the District of North Saanich) becoming part of the Vancouver Island Regional Library District under the provisions of the Public Libraries Act?"

And Further Take Notice that B. C. Bracewell has been appointed Returning Officer for the purpose of taking and recording the vote of the owner-electors at the time and place above mentioned.

Dated at Sidney, B.C., this 16th day of November, 1965.

B. C. BRACEWELL,
Acting Municipal Clerk.

Call Tenders For Pioneer Village

Tenders have been called for the 22-unit senior citizens' project planned for Ganges, overlooking the harbor. Bids will be made to H. J. White, of Nanaimo, architect for the sponsors of the village, Salt Spring Lions Club. The project will provide 18 single suites, with four suites for couples. There will be laundry and storage facilities. Buildings will be concrete slab on grade, with frame construction and stucco exterior, shake roof, electric heating and fenced patios. Here is the architect's drawing of the projected village.

Islanders Hail New Queen

Many residents of the Gulf Islands made the journey to Victoria to witness the acceptance of MV "Mayne Queen" by the B.C. Toll Authority last week.

The ship was to have been accepted by Premier W. A. C. Bennett, but at the last moment other business made it impossible for him to be there. Provincial Secretary Wesley Black acted in his stead. It was a quiet ceremony, as the new ship became a member of the now quite large fleet of provincial ferries.

Feature of the afternoon was the presentation of a plaque to the ship from the people of Mayne Island. Presentation was made on behalf of the island to Mrs. Black, and accepted by her on behalf of the ship's crew, to be placed in a suitable place on the boat.

Among the Mayne Islanders noted at the ceremony were Miss

M. Kerby, Mr. and Mrs. G. Slinn, Mr. and Mrs. W. Morson, Mr. and Mrs. F. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. F. Dodds (Mr. and Mrs. A. Baldwin, J. Clarke, Mrs. N. Hall and Miss Julie Hall.

MARKSMEN ARE PRESENTED WITH YEAR'S TROPHIES

Galiano Lodge was the setting, for the annual Island Rod and Gun Club presentation dinner on Saturday, Nov. 6.

A capacity crowd turned out to celebrate the occasion. Blessing was asked by Mrs. Mary Backlund and president, Earl Young, welcomed all of the guests and members who came from: Sicomous, Cloverdale, Vancouver, Mayne Island as well as Galiano.

Mr. Young then announced the winners in the many categories of marksmanship. Helping him to present the prizes was Mrs. Gerald Steward.

Trophy winners were: high-over-all, Ed Lee; singles, Georgie George; doubles, Peter Demroche; handicap, Fred Robson.

The secretary, Gerald Steward, presented prizes for the .22 calibre. The standing and sitting trophies were won by Don Robson and the kneeling, prone and high-over-all trophies by Earl Young.

A very well-known entertainer, Karl Karlsen, radio and television star, gave a short concert at the Lodge. Later guests gathered at the Rod and Gun Clubroom.

Warm tribute was paid to the president by Fred Robson for his hard work in organising this dinner.

DOUBLE CHRISTENING AT SIDNEY

A double christening service was held Sunday at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church with Rev. Bernard Hanley officiating. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Roscoe, Fifth St., received the names Christi Ann. Godparents were her uncle and aunt, Eugene and Ann O'Neill of Victoria.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whyte, Jr., 2230 Harbor Road, was given the names Joanne Francis. Eugene and Ann O'Neill acted proxy for Joanne's aunt, Mrs. W. Cron and grandfather, G. W. Dickenson, of Australia. Following the ceremony the baby's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Whyte, 2238 Harbor Rd., entertained at tea for relatives and friends.

LINDA DOUMA

Sidney Girl At End Of Miss Canada Term

Linda Douma's wonderful year has come to a close.

For the past 12 months, the beautiful and talented Sidney girl has represented this country as Miss Canada in many corners of the world.

Last weekend it all ended for Linda—all but the memories which will remain with her for many years.

Linda returned to Toronto last Thursday to preside over the finals for the 1966 Miss Canada pageant, culminating with the crowning by her of a new Miss Canada on Sunday evening, Nov. 14. She was succeeded by Diane Landry of Winnipeg.

RARELY HOME

Linda has rarely been home since her own crowning one year ago. With Toronto as home base she has travelled thousands of miles, visiting the Orient, South America, the Near East and the Middle East as well as many points in Canada and the United States. On some of the trips she was accompanied only by her chaperone, June Dennis, but on others she travelled with well-known Canadian entertainers or Canadian trade delegations. Some of the trips were chiefly business while some were simply holidays, but most trips combined both of official business and pleasure.

Such a trip was Linda's recent visit to Calgary as a guest at the opening of the Alberta Fidelity Trust in the new Southridge Mall. Hon. Paul Hellyer, minister of defence, and James Coyne, former governor of the Bank of Canada, and Miss Canada were the principal guests. Mr. Coyne and Miss Canada jointly took part in the opening ceremonies and after performing her duties, Linda was presented with a white Sletson hat. One of the highlights of the event was a helicopter ride over the city of Calgary.

How did a Sidney girl become Miss Canada?

STARTED HERE

It all started several years ago in Sidney when Linda entered the Miss Sidney contest and won it. This entitled her to go to Vancouver later the same year and compete with other beautiful young ladies from all over B.C. for the Miss Pacific National Exhibition title. She won it.

Normally, that would have been the end of the line for Linda. However, a Lions club was formed in Sidney shortly after this and its members, recognizing the outstanding beauty, talent and charm of the Sidney girl, decided that their first project would be the sponsorship of Linda for the national crown.

CROWNED AGAIN

So a year ago Linda found herself in Toronto on a stage before dazzling floodlights and television cameras with a bevy of excited Canadian girls representing all parts of the country. She sang, modelled bathing suits and evening gowns and the judges decided that here was the girl they were seeking. Linda was crowned Miss Canada 1965.

Since then her life has hardly been her own. It finally settled back into some degree of normalcy in September when, with most of her official duties discharged, Linda returned home and enrolled at the University of Victoria to continue her interrupted studies.

Now she goes back into the whirlwind of the Miss Canada pageant for a second time. But this time when it is all over she will come back to Vancouver Island to resume the life of Linda Douma, and another Canadian girl will step into the exciting life of Miss Canada.

MAINLAND CONFERENCE TO DRAW LOCAL CHURCHGOERS

Rev. F. R. Fleming, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, 9182 East Saanich Road, reports that Sunday school and church workers from his congregation are planning to attend the National Sunday School Convention in Connaught Heights Pentecostal Church, New Westminster, November 23 to 25. Rev. M. Forseth will be the host pastor.

The Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada is the fastest growing denomination in Canada, according to Mr. Fleming. Its Sunday school enrolment now is 75,000. The Sunday school missionary crusade has contributed over $1,000,000 in 15 years, added the minister.

Rev. James Montgomery, executive director of Sunday school and youth, leads a convention team at New Westminster consisting of Rev. C. H. Stiller, executive director of home missions and bible colleges, Rev. C. Scratch, promotional secretary for missions, Rev. B. T. Parkinson, Sunday school and youth department secretary, Rev. R. M. Argue and Rev. E. A. Francis, field representatives for missions. The team will be conducting seven such conventions coast to coast.

There will be 30 workshop conferences conducted covering every major church activity. Among those Christian Education specialists conducting these workshop conferences will be Rev. G. R. Richmond, Sunday school director. Mr. Richmond was formerly pastor of Sidney church.

AUXILIARY PREPARES FOR CHRISTMAS

Christmas gifts for patients and the Gift Shop were discussed at the November meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Rest Haven Hospital.

Mrs. J. W. Whitaker offered to take charge of the gifts for the patients, and it is hoped the display case will be ready before Christmas to show all the fine gifts which will then be on hand for sale.

Mrs. A. A. Cormack welcomed a guest, Mrs. K. I. MacLaren.

Four babies were given booties by Mrs. D. Ritchie during the month of October.

Mrs. R. Simpson reported a very successful bake sale, and the president thanked the members for supporting the sale so well and also for the gifts donated for the gift shop, and the members who participated in the Blood Donor Clinic. Mrs. C. Turner and Mrs. A. Caldwell gave an account of their visit to the opening of the new wing at the Gorge Hospital.

Next meeting will be held on Wednesday morning, Dec. 10, in the hospital lounge.

Pensioners' Annual Dinner

Annual Christmas dinner of Sidney branch, Old Age Pensioners' Organization, will be held in Sanscha Hall at noon on December 16. Members wishing tickets may secure them from David Ritchie, 9934 Fourth St., or from the secretary, R. Thompson, 2307 Amelia Ave.

A Lot Of Bull Moose

That's a lot of bull! (Moose variety.) The huge moose head hung for many years at the Tillamook Athletic Club in Victoria before it found its way to Uncle Dudley's Trading Post in Sidney recently by way of Joe Laventure of the Hotel Sidney. Dudley Johnson estimates that the moose must have weighed some 1,400 pounds before it became a trophy, judging from the size of the head which he is pictured with above. Antlers measure four feet across, with 17 spikes on one side and 16 on the other. The head alone is estimated to weigh several hundred pounds.

PLAYERS OFF TO SLOW START WHEN NEW PRESENTATION IS OFFERED AT WEEK-END

Last week's presentation by Peninsula Players was not their best. The talented small company based on Sidney and North Saanich has presented better plays better. Yet, this comedy of ineptitude was amusing and light as a farcical comedy might be expected to develop. It was, equally, quite poignant and the curtain scene relieved it of the offense that comedy in a mental home might have conveyed to the more ingenious palates.

The play was slow in the first act as it introduced the audience to the simple people of The Cloisters. They met Patricia Lawrence as Florence, who nursed her doll in the belief that it was her son; Hannibal, played by Joe Fenton who was a statistician and sought escape from reality in his violin, which he was unable to play; Fairy May, Jane Davies, was seeking assurances of affection as she once had done decades ago in her childhood; Jeffrey, Tom Body's interpretation of a concert musician fearful of displaying his imaginary scar and Mrs. Paddy, played by Bea Hadfield, eager at all times to list her catalogue of antipathies and determined to speak of nothing else.

The guests of the home carried a difficult part successfully. EXCELLENT Florence Smith, in the role of the eccentric Mrs. Ethel Savage was excellent. She had enough of simplicity to be the patient and enough of sharp intuition to be ill-placed in the home. Cindy Tyler, playing the role of nurse, was the steading influence of the guests. Her portrayal was also excellent. The villain of the piece came in three. Step-children of the incarcerated Mrs. Savage were Vivian Cowan, as Lily Belle, Geoff Stewart as Titus and Dave Davies as Samuel. All three contributed to the villainy of the plot.

Ken Smith, as the doctor, was completely acceptable. Despite the continuity and the increasing appeal of the play as it went through its paces, the presentation fell short of the standard often accomplished by this group.

While some may have attributed this failure to any one of a dozen reasons, the shortcoming was, in the main, attributable to a combination.

SLOW STARTER
The script was undoubtedly a slow starter. The players tended

CUMMING IS CANDIDATE FOR NORTH SAANICH REEVE — Will Run In December

Councillor J. B. Cumming of Land's End Road will be a candidate for the office of reeve of North Saanich Municipality in the forthcoming municipal election. He informed The Review of his decision this week. Mr. Cumming, who served with to speak softly and some of the humor was gained only from the front seats. The play was light, the plot was thick and the final scene was anti-climatic. With a little more continuity this sequence would have been more evident.

Direction was by Margaret Dixon and Emma Keller with Chuck Swannell in charge of production. Design and decoration were carried out by Joyce Swannell and the following contributed to the various duties off-stage: costumes, Lois Wright; properties, Frances Spear; lighting, Eric Johnson. Cliff Dawson and Peter Swannell; sound effects, Emma Keller; construction crew, Dave Davies, Joe Fenton, Geoff Stewart, Frank Spear and Ray Harrison; make-up and hair, Bette Harter; publicity, Jane Davies; posters, Jill Cowan; prompter, Jackie Edwards; front, Paddy and Larry Scardiffeld.—F.G.R.

Village By-Laws To Be Debated

Merchants of Sidney will be invited to express an opinion on the village by-law controlling hours of store operation.

On Tuesday morning, Nov. 23, a breakfast meeting will be held in Sidney Hotel banquet room for all Sidney merchants.

Recommendations will be invited regarding the hours of operation and compulsory closing of businesses.

The event will be a running race. Some hungry merchants will arrive early, eat early and depart early. Others will yawn their way through breakfast an hour later.

Breakfast will commence at 7:45 a.m. The meeting will conclude at 9 a.m.

REZONING HEARING THURSDAY

Rezoning meeting to consider proposals for various locations in Sidney will be staged in the village council chamber on Thursday evening, Nov. 18.

It will be a statutory public hearing wherein all property owners affected by a proposal may express an opinion.

time than I am able to devote to it. Accordingly I will not be a candidate for office next month. I have been most impressed with the way Mr. Cumming has tackled problems which we have faced and am confident that he will serve as reeve in an outstanding manner," he told The Review.

At the time of writing no other ratepayer has announced his candidature for the reeveship. Whoever is elected next month will serve for two years.

movement for many years, having started the movement in her home town close to a large army camp. She has served from Guide Captain, local association chairman and on to district and division commissioner and was thus able to give the meeting the benefit of her wide experience and knowledge of Guiding.

She outlined the duties of the local association, "likening" it to the patrol system in a Guide company, and showed charts which illustrated the Girl Guide organization from Brownie up to the world organization.

Mrs. Nelson also suggested various committees which she had found helpful. One which will appeal to mothers was a uniform committee. This committee serves as a clearing house for uniforms outgrown but still useful. Mrs. Nelson pointed out that by dividing the work necessary into small areas everyone can contribute without the expenditure of a great deal of time.

NEW COMMITTEES

Committees for the 1965-66 year were elected, on a volunteer basis. They are: badge secretary, Mrs. Smilie; social, Mrs. Neave and Mrs. Marshall; transportation, Mrs. O. Bjelland; telephone, Mrs. K. O. Herrington; publicity, Mrs. T. Boyd and Mrs. H. Loney; uniforms, Mrs. Hopkins; ways and means, Mrs. Ramsay, Mrs. Larson, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Smilie; secretary, Mrs. W. Ure; treasurer, Mrs. A. G. Campbell.

It is hoped that any mothers of Brownies or Guides called upon by a committee convenor will be willing to "Lend a Hand."

In order to safeguard the Guide and Brownie equipment and the flags, Mr. Larson will put padlocks on the cupboard and also make new flag stands. Mrs. Bjelland and Mrs. Neave volunteered to wash and wax the floor of the hall.

Island Church Guild Hears Of Finances

Meeting of St. Margaret's Church committee was held in the vestry of the church at Galiano on November 4. Rev. H. Doody was in the chair and led the opening prayers.

The meeting was told that two beautiful new altar vases have been dedicated to the memory of James Walker by his wife, Mrs. Joan Walker.

The new organ in the church has now been fully paid for. It is already installed and will be dedicated in the spring. W. Ford and Mr. Doody have now installed the new oil tank and thanks were extended to them for their work.

There was a long discussion on the inability of this parish to meet the assessment from General Synod. Mr. Doody stressed the need and hope for more weekly envelopes, as the source of steady income. Ways and means of raising money to meet this assessment were discussed at some length. The annual meeting will be held in January. The meeting closed with prayer.

CHURCH GROUP IS THANKED FOR FOOD DONATION

The monthly meeting of St. John's United Church Women was held at the home of Mrs. W. Brown, All Bay Road, Sidney, on Tuesday, Nov. 2, with 16 members present.

It was decided to make a donation towards the St. John's Sunday school for their Christmas party.

A card of thanks and acknowledgment was received from Mrs. E. E. Harper of the Free Food Stall, for a donation of fruits and vegetables from the Thanksgiving service at St. John's Church.

A donation was forwarded to Vancouver for missionary work.

The members elected for the new executive for the coming year were announced with Mrs. R. Simpson as president.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

11 SPEEDERS

R.C.M.P. highway patrol radar unit made an unannounced appearance in the Sidney district Tuesday to the dismay of 11 drivers.

The unit from Colwood was here several hours in the morning and afternoon checking car speeds on Lochside Drive, Third St., McTavish Road and in school zones. The 11 drivers charged with speeding will appear in Sidney police court Saturday morning.

Fire Causes Alarm

Large fire at Island Hardwoods sawmill on Patricia Bay Highway Tuesday evening alarmed many nearby residents and passers-by.

But the fire at the former brickyard at the corner of Bazan Bay Road was set to burn up waste sawdust and lumber scraps, said a spokesman for the firm.

TWO MORE ARE NAMED

Five candidates have declared themselves for the December 11 municipal election in North Saanich.

John S. Clark, 618 Lands End Road, and Mrs. Eva Hinton, 10664 Madrona Drive, this week announced their intent to file nomination papers for council seats in North Saanich municipality. Mr. Clark is a school teacher and Mrs. Hinton a housewife.

North Saanich municipal election is December 11. Nomination papers for council may be filed on one day only, Monday, November 29.

Already in the contest are Councillor D. R. Cook, Harry Taylor and Mrs. H. G. Horth.
